NOTE: Many of the folksongs of sentimental character associated with different nations will be found in Volume IX of "The Ideal Home Music Library."

Special Note Regarding the Song Words in this Volume

IN THIS VOLUME are included seven (7) different classes of songs, comprising a total of three hundred and twenty-eight dearly beloved melodies. It has only been possible to include this multitude of old favorites by eliminating those superfluous verses which are rarely sung and yet which, if inserted, would render the volume too bulky for use on the piano. We feel sure that this innovation will not only meet with approval but that the increased compactness of each song, rendering page turnings far less frequent, will be heartily appreciated by lovers of the old-time favorites.

Allegretto

1
We're gath-ered now, my class-mates, to join our part-ing
To gaze on life's broad, ruf-fled sea, to which we quick-ly song; To pluck from mem'ry's wreath the buds which there so sweet-ly throng;
go; But ere we start we'll drink the health of Al-ma Ma-ter O! f
Oh! Al-ma Ma-ter O, Oh! Al-ma Ma-ter O, But Oh! Al-ma Ma-ter O, Oh! Al-ma Ma-ter O, Hurere we start we'll drink the health of Al-ma Ma-ter O.
rah! hur-rah! for col-lege days and Al-ma Ma-ter O.

2 No more for us yon tuneful bell shall ring for morning prayers,
No more to long Biennial we'll mount the attic stairs;
Our recitations all are passed — Alumnuses, you know,
We'll swell the praises long and loud of Alma Mater O.

3 We go to taste the joys of life, like bubbles on its tide,
Now glittering in its sunbeams, and dancing in their pride;
But bubble-like they'll break and burst, and leave us sad, you know,
There's none so sweet as memory of Alma Mater O.

4 Then brush the tear drop from your eye, and happy let us be,
For joy alone should fill the hearts of those as blest as we,
One cheerful chorus, ringing loud, we'll give before we go,
To memory of college days and Alma Mater O.

The Lone Fish Ball

2 He feels his cash to know his pence, And finds he has but just six cents.
3 He finds at last a right cheap place, And en - ters in with modest face.

CHORUS Repeat words of Verse each time

4 The bill of fare he searches through,
To see what his six cents will do.

5 The cheapest viand of them all
Is "Twelve and a half cents for two Fish-balls."

6 The waiter he to him doth call,
And gently whispers, "one Fish-ball."

7 The waiter roars it through the hall,
The guests they start at "one Fish-ball!"

8 The guest then says, quite ill at ease,
"A piece of bread, sir, if you please."

9 The waiter roars it through the hall
"We don't give bread with one Fish-ball!"

MORAL

Where the myrtle doth entwine,
There grow roses and other posies,
Fertilized by Clementine.

Thought he "oughter jine" his daughter,
Now he's with his Clementine.

Robed in garments soaked in brine,
Though in life I used to hug her,
Now she's dead, I'll draw the line.

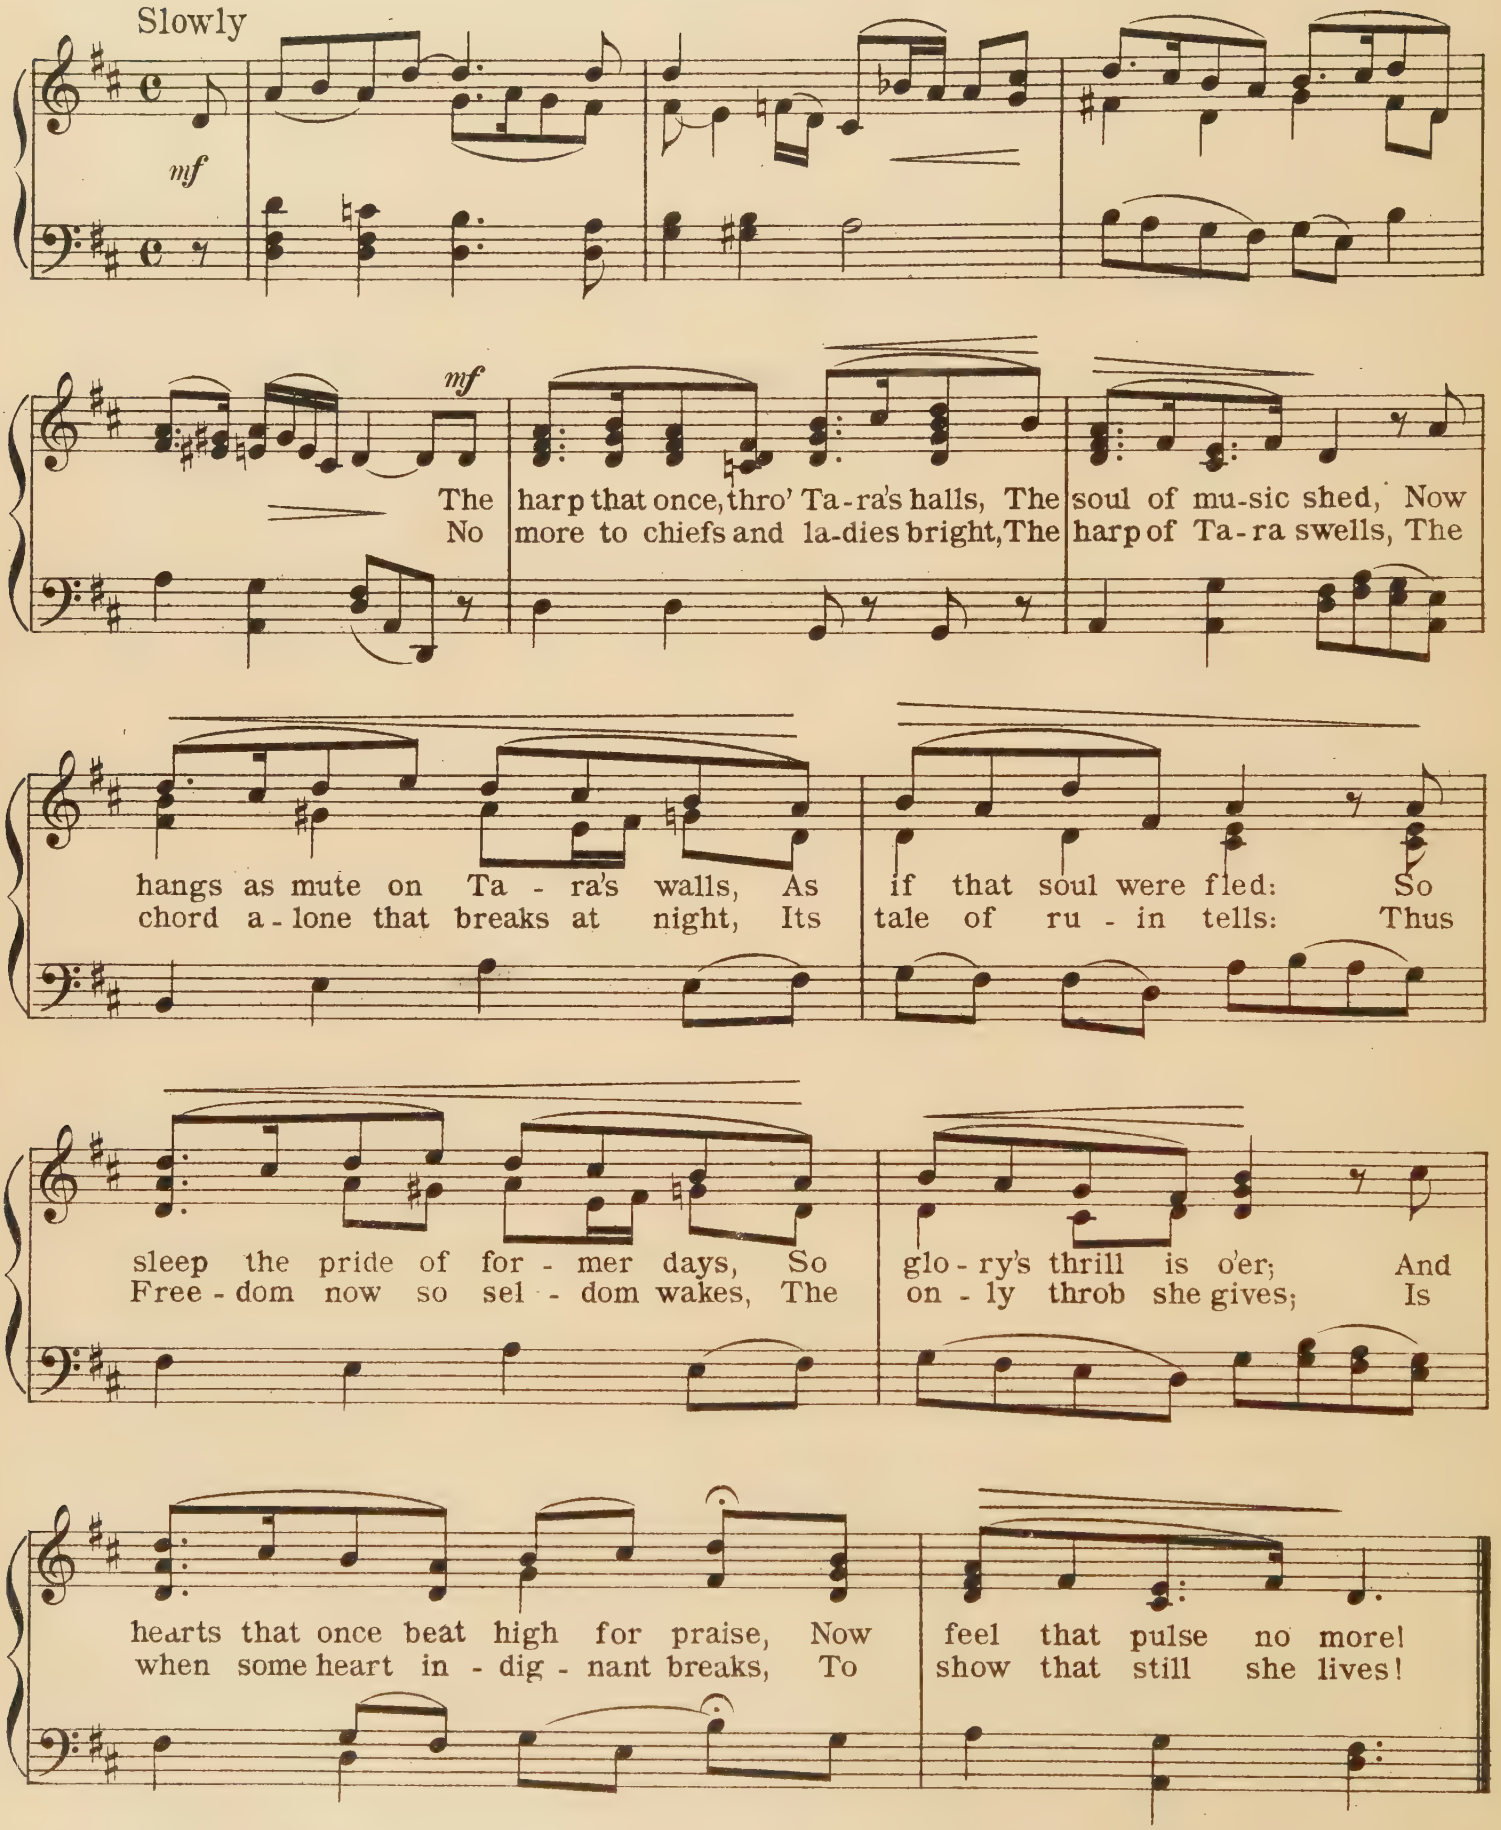
The Harp That Once Thro' Tara's Halls



Slowly

The harp that once, thro' Ta-ra's halls, The soul of mu-sic shed, Now
No more to chiefs and la-dies bright, The harp of Ta-ra swells, The hangs as mute on Ta - ra's walls, As if that soul were fled: So chord a - lone that breaks at night, Its tale of ru - in tells: Thus sleep the pride of for - mer days, So glo - ry's thrill is o'er; And Free - dom now so sel - dom wakes, The on - ly throb she gives; Is when some heart in - dig - nant breaks, To show that still she lives!

2. Thro' man - y'a fierce and an - gry storm Thou wert our light of day: And to their ut - most grief and shame, Thee high - er up we've raised.

3. For four long years with words so fine
They talked our land away:
We wished no British, good or bad,
Alone we're bright and gay;
But as the vexing Briton stayed,
Our refuge lay in force;
Of trouble we'd had quite enough,
We had no other course.

4. And God has helped us England's yoke
From off our backs to pull;
Once more, O joy, we're bright and free,
Our flag waves beautiful.
We've shed some of our noblest blood,
But England have amazed;
And as the Lord has made us free,
So let His name be praised.
